Our Book

This is the 1964 edition of the KENSTONIAN

It contains a little of the life at Kenston

during the past year.

It's really a very versatile book: You may put it on the shelf,

let the dust collect, and then one day

take it out and look it over.

It's up to you, but no matter when or how you use it,

we, the Yearbook Staff,

hope you enjoy remembering the '63-'64 school year at Kenston High School.

Forty Years of Public Service

MR. ELLIS DUITCH
B.S., Sam Houston College
M.A., Columbia University

It is with the deepest gratitude that we of Kenston High School dedicate the 1964 KENSTONIAN to Mr. Ellis Duitch. He is a dedicated and conscientious teacher who is liked and respected by the student body and faculty alike and who has worked to make our years at Kenston more productive and rewarding. Those of us who have been fortunate enough to know him will always be thankful for his guidance through the years at Kenston.

In Memoriam

Along with the world, the faculty and student body of Kenston High School shared November 22, 1963, at 2:05, the grief of losing our beloved President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. We dedicate this page to him.

ADMINISTRATION

Reason and calm judgment belong to a leader.

L-R - Peter Clemens; Dr. Charles E. Hirshey, Supt.; Mrs. Dorothy Nichols; James Male; Howard McConnell; Frank Tucek; Richard Timmons.

School Board Duties and Functions

MR. JAMES MALE
President

MRS. DOROTHY NICHOLS
Clerk-Treasurer

Often under fire from the community, the school board tries to please most of the people all of the time. The five-member school board and clerk, Mrs. Nichols, constantly try to run the school justly and efficiently. Among the school board's many duties are to hire teachers and administrators, to make the budget, and to form school policy. These five men are to be commended for their efforts and public spirit. They are always open to public scrutiny, yet their jobs are curiously rewarding.

Superintendent

Although his concern must be with the whole school district and all the Kenston Schools, Dr. Hirshey has taken a great interest in the affairs of the high school and the high school students. His educational leadership has made itself felt in many ways during this year. Thank you, Dr. Hirshey!

Principal

Mr. Klaisner, during his second year as principal, has performed his duties in a creditable fashion. His calm, considerate, direct approach to the problems that have arisen have made these problems smaller than they might have been. He has taken great interest in student life and has often been seen at class, club, and athletic activities. He certainly deserves our respect, our admiration, and our pledge of future cooperation.

CLASSES

only the first step that counts.

CLASS OFFICERS - Bob Hawley, Treasurer; Sue Tucek, Secretary; Sue Smith, Vice-President; Art Gahagan, President.

Seniors 1964

At long last the class of 1964 has finished high school. We look forward eagerly to the new horizons that have suddenly opened before us. Some of us are heading to college; some are ready to venture out on our own and see what the world has to offer; but all of us are going to encounter new experiences and make new friends. It's with a lot of hope and with no little sadness that we go.

Remember the sophomore spaghetti supper?

Remember the prom of our junior and senior years? Remember the failures and triumphs of the Kenston Bombers? Remember how each little thing seemed so big and so important and gradually changed to its true proportion? Yes, we remember.

Let each of us promise to himself never to forget the rich experiences that have been shared with the faculty and fellow students as we bid a fond farewell to Kenston High School, our alma mater dear.

What lies ahead?

Victor Laus, Kenston's second A.F.S. exchange student this year, came to Kenston the second semester from West Geauga. On his first day here Max introduced him to the senior homerooms with the words, "Be good to him." From then on Vic was on his own. In his own quiet manner he circulated around the school making friends of all he met. In English class he astounded the seniors with his dexterity with the language which he learned in school in the Philippines. After school classes in June, Vic leaves for a trip to various parts of the U.S. and then for his home. When he goes, he'll take the memories of the year well spent with him and leave memories of his wisdom behind.

Visitor From Abroad

36 Victor at home with the Watson family.

This year one of Kenston's foreign exchange students was Max Bragado, a lively Latin from Spain. Max lived with the Robbins Bosworth family on Bainbridge-Auburn Road. He arrived in Bainbridge late in August. Max quickly won the friendship of all the members of the senior class at an open house given in his honor before school started. He soon became one of the best known boys in the school. His effervescence was exceeded only by his ability to play the piano and to woo the girls.

After this year, Kenston's halls will never more hear his Spanish-accented English, but it will be a long time before anyone will forget Max Bragado. Good luck, Max.

Adios.

EVENTS

Actions of the last age are like almanacs of last year.

Queen Annie Smith and her court reign at the annual Homecoming Game.

Homecoming

Annie Smith is crowned during half-time ceremonies by Bob Zisk, captain of the football team.

Kenston High School comes alive as the first social event of the year gets into full swing. The "63" Homecoming begins with a pep rally . . . football game . . . traditional crowning of the queen . . . Saturday decorating and an evening of dancing. The Student Council can be commended for a job well done.

Annual Homecoming Dance

Dancing cheek to cheek

Christmas Formal

Queen Carrie Wheeler smiles at her "subjects."

We thought only West Virginians didn't wear shoes.

A beautiful starlit evening in December is the setting for the Christmas Formal. A mystical magic possesses everyone . . . dancing close . . . crowning of the queen . . . humming Christmas Carols . . . the excitement of the coming holiday pervades the atmosphere.

'Tis indeed a very special time of year and a very special dance.

Kenston's Latin Lover at work.

County Band

The audience applauds the deserving performers.

In February all the bands in Geauga County met at Kenston for the County Band Festival. Guest conductor . . . the All-County Band . . . "Variation Overture" . . . "Here Comes the Band" . . . after much practice and a busy evening the appreciative audience indicated it was a very worthwhile and memorable day.

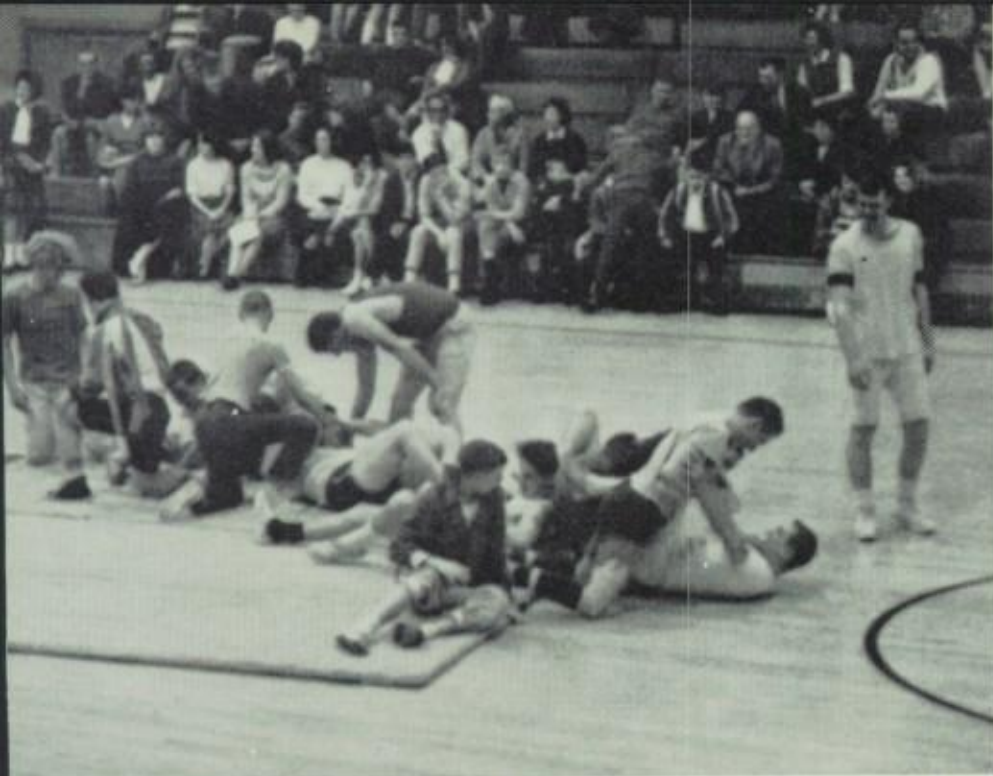

Mr. Sisler directs the Kenston High School Band at the County Band Festival.

"Burnished Brass" of K.H.S.

Ah - one and a two . . .

You call this basketball??

K-Klub Team sets up T-Formation

No wonder they lost!!!

Faculty — K-Klub Game

A hilarious mood was set for the Faculty - K-Klub Game. The extraordinary was common place . . . unusual cheerleaders . . . "crazy" rules . . . many, many players . . . unbelievable costumes and stiff muscles were the order of the day. Indeed a game that shows the good relationship between Kenston's students and faculty.

Cheerleaders???

Plays

Scene in "1984" when lovers are discovered.

Aren't your contacts insured?

The Kenston Drama Club presents "1984," the gripping tale of a regimented life . . . Big Brother . . . superb acting and forbidden love. Second production of the Drama Club was "The Little Dog Laughed," a delightful comedy . . . young psychiatrist . . . birds and analysis . . . unmanageable brother . . . just-all around hilarity. Hard work by dedicated students produced favorable results in the 1963-64 productions.

The cast of "The Little Dog Laughed" presents Mr. Robinson and Mr. Seighman with gifts in thanks for their assistance.

"Look, Mom!! No cavities"

The seniors are marshalled in by Paul Barrett and Elenor Kobick.

Reverend Stone speaks to the graduates.

Baccalaureate

Baccalaureate is certainly a time for reflection and thoughts of the future. Seniors together in caps and gowns . . . a provoking speaker . . . introspect and self-appraisal . . . the end of our high school days is near.

Sure hope it is not too hot in here. Maybe if I fold my hands and pray.

Prom

Queen - Carol McDevitt
King - David English

The King and Queen and their Court

The long awaited day finally comes and it's time for the Prom! May 9 . . . a special hair-do and newly simonized car . . . Shaker House . . . elegant gowns, corsages, and rented tuxedos . . . "a beautiful Queen and gallant King" . . . Like all good things the Prom comes to an end all too soon and the special night is then just a memory.

As soon as this is over we'll skip town with the crown.

We could have danced all night!!!

Everyone was there!

Top-Hats signified Magic from May.

It was a gay time.

I've never been so tired!

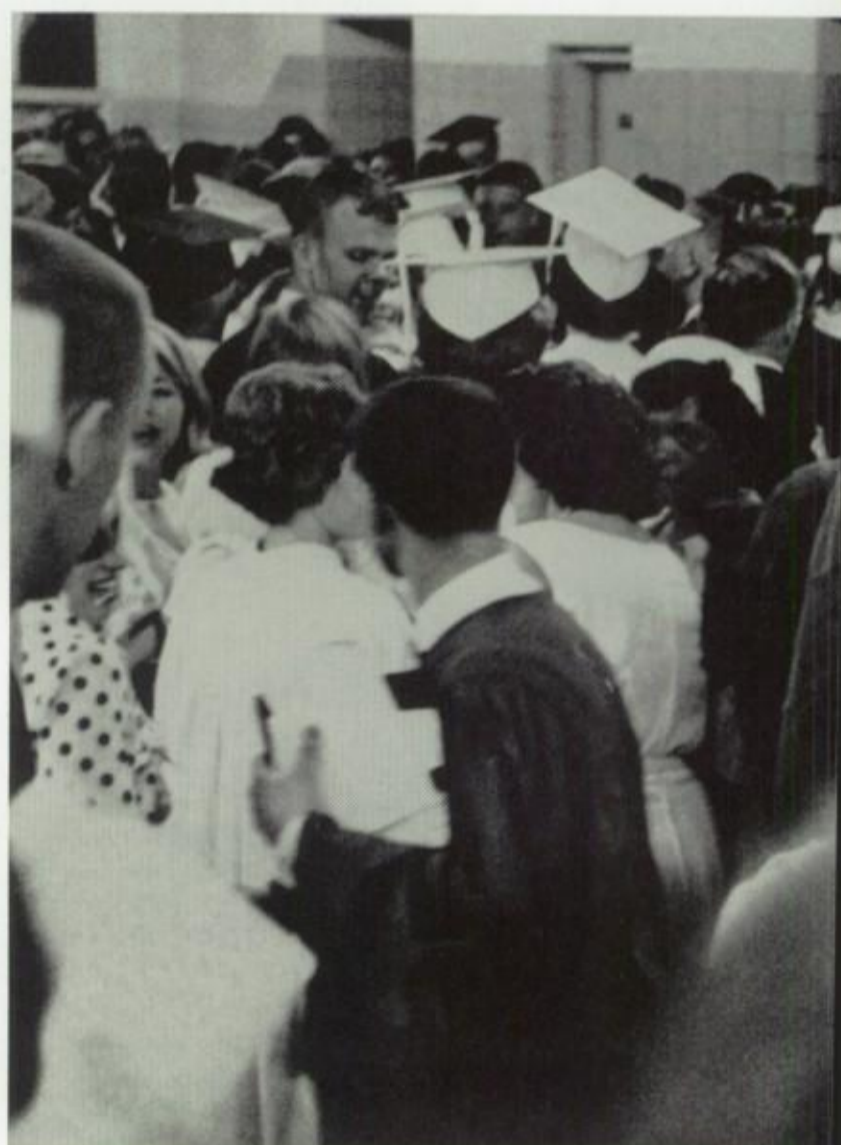

Mr. Sisler and his Band

The boys file up and get their diplomas in the last official act of high school.

COMMENCEMENT

One important phase of our lives is reached upon our graduation from high school. The long-awaited diploma grasped in our hands . . . caps and gowns . . . proud parents . . . a hearty handshake and congratulations . . . tears and smiles . . . "I can't believe it is over!" We say good-bye to classmates and teachers we may never see again. Yet, always we must remember: Commencement is meant to be the beginning rather than the end.

It's all over: A time for joy and sadness; A time of remembering and forgetting; A time of mixed emotions.

The class rises for presentations to the school board.

Only five minutes left.

Commencement

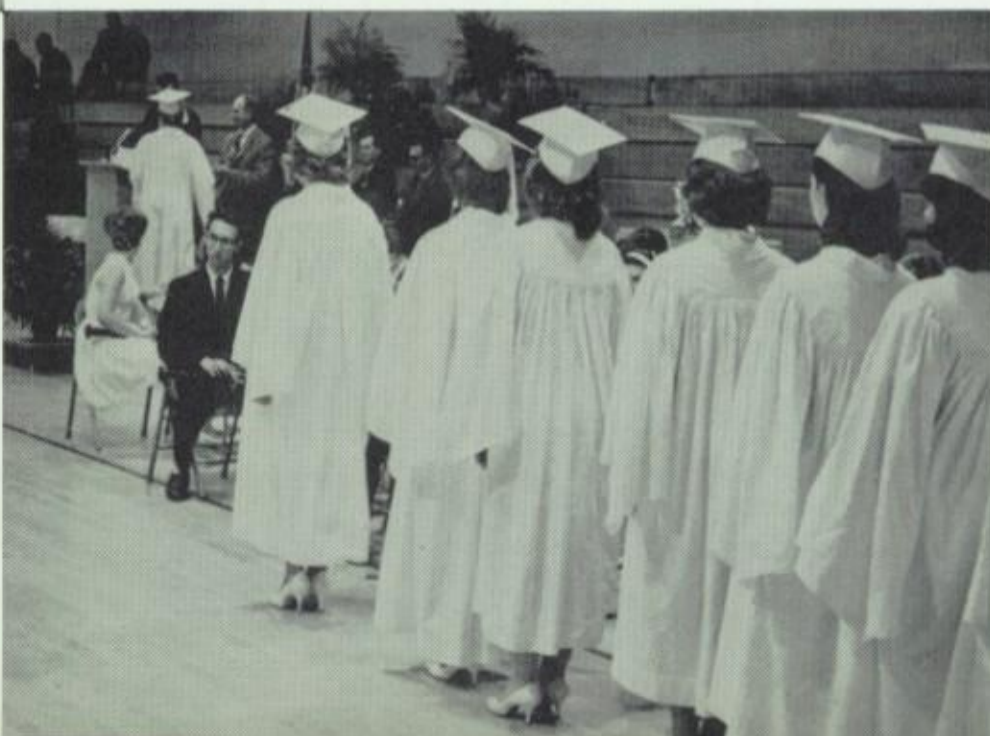

Twelve long years draw to a close.

Susie Tucek gives her valedictorian speech.

Editing a yearbook is like trying to put out a newspaper with no news; everything must be rearranged and changed in order to give the impressions of newness and originality. That is the job of the yearbook staff members, racking their brains to try to find a different way to organize the Kenstonian. The yearbook staff also has to make money to publish the book, for each year the cost of the yearbook is close to $2000.00. To do this the staff literally searches the countryside looking for buyers of advertisements for the yearbook. In addition to all of this, the staff has to meet deadlines and cope with lazy staff members. We, the staff, offer our thanks to Miss Mummart for shouldering the responsibilities and the headaches that come from being the Kenstonian faculty sponsor.

Student Council

The Student Council at Kenston High School is the governmental organization representing the entire student body. The Council consists of two members from each class, who are elected by their classmates in the fall, and the four officers, selected by the entire student body each spring.

Meetings are held bi-weekly under the direction of the President, Eleanor Kobick. The Student Council sponsors several sock hops each year to raise money for its projects. This past year the Council gave a $150 scholarship to an outstanding senior.

OFFICERS, L-R: B. Hawley, treasurer; S. Webster, vice-president; D. Clemens, president; N. Pfouts, secretary.

Membership in the National Honor Society is the greatest honor Kenston can grant to good students. To be eligible, a student must have maintained at least a B average throughout his high school years. In addition to excelling in scholastic achievement, a member of the National Honor Society must also be outstanding in the fields of leadership, character and service. Each spring new members are inducted at a special school assembly and then honored at a banquet sponsored by the senior members, their parents, and the group advisors, Mr. Ellis Dutich, Mr. Samuel Griffith, and Mr. Fred Klaisner.

Echo

Kenston's newspaper is published approximately once very two weeks and distributed to over 200 subscribers. The purpose of The Echo and its volunteer staff is to keep the school informed on what is happening in the school - its sports, clubs, and social activities. Feature articles and editorials to amuse, entertain, and provoke thought are also a regular part of each issue.

A special memorial issue was published this year commemorating the death of President Kennedy. The money raised from the sale of this issue ($41.75) was sent to the Geauga County Opportunity School for Retarded Children to be used as they felt would best benefit the school.

The American Field Service club serves an important purpose in the school district. Now in its second year, the club assists the adults' A.F.S. Chapter in raising money and selecting students to be considered for Americans Abroad Scholarships. The club helps to promote world wide understanding through school assemblies, A.F.S. dinners and other social gatherings. The organization meets once a month and is open to all Kenston students.

Future Teachers of America

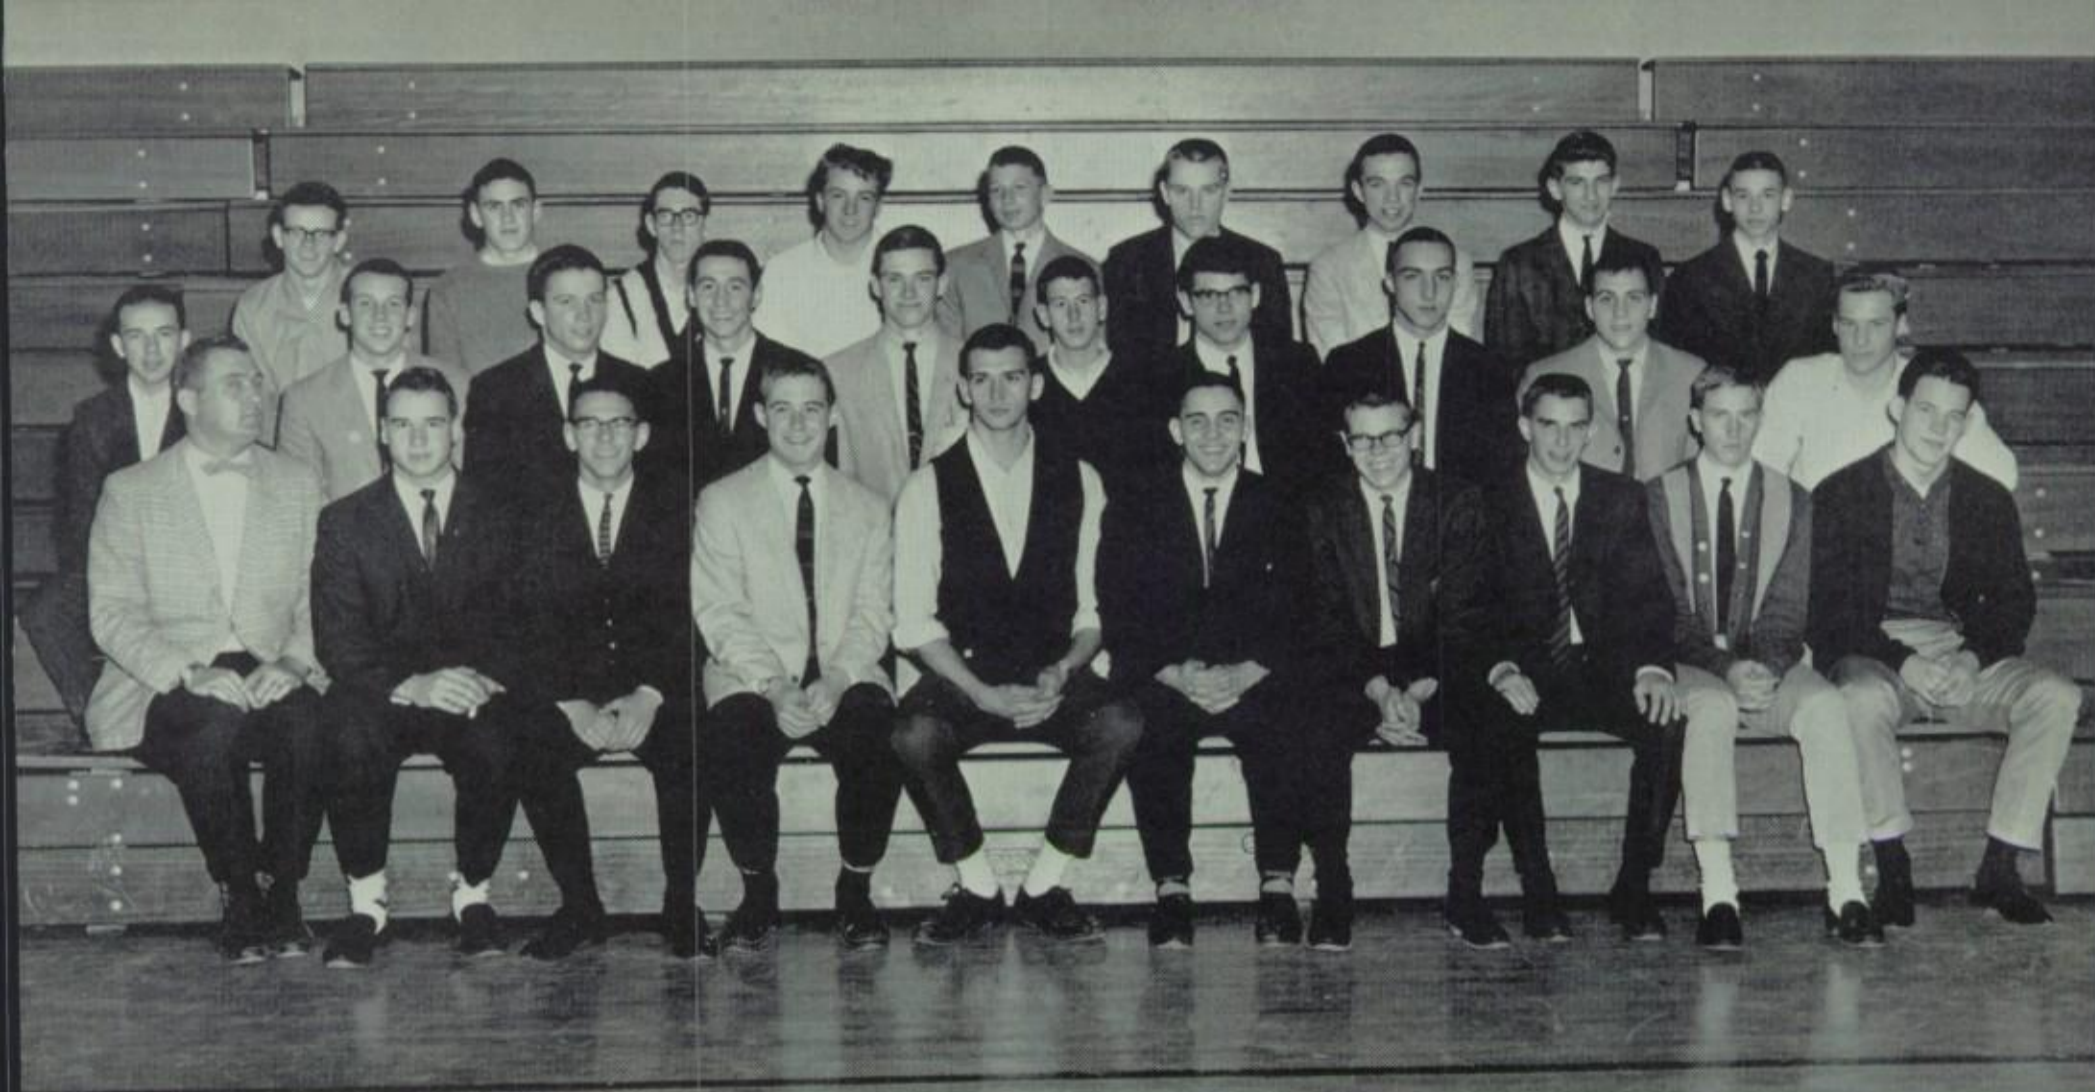

The Future Teachers of America is a club composed of high school students in the grades 10 to 12 who are interested in the techniques of teaching or in teaching as a career.

The first thing the club does is to have its annual installation. The members help out by substituting for sick teachers, hostessing, and introducing the speakers at such functions as Career Night and College Night.

The club has the annual Christmas Formal in December. It does its annual two days of teaching in the spring, which consists of one day of observation and one day of actual teaching. The members are given the choice of any grade from first to eighth. By this teaching they are given an inside view of the teaching profession.

OFFICERS, L-R: D. English, president; J. Rudny, vice-president; J. Locke, treasurer.

The K-Klub is the varsity lettermen's club at Kenston. All sophomore, junior, and senior boys who have earned one letter are eligible for membership. The members are expected to set an example, both here and at athletic events at other schools, for all Kenston students. This year the K-Klub sponsored the Faculty vs. K-Klub basketball game as a money making project. The sponsor is Mr. Donald Havener.

Drama Club

The interest in dramatics has grown considerable in the past few years at Kenston. The Drama Club can be relied on for two fine productions a year. Mr. Robinson directed the fall play, "1984," a tense drama about life in the future. A light comedy, "The Little Dog Laughed" was produced and directed by Mr. Seighman in the spring. With its affiliation with The National Thespian Society, the Kenston Drama Club is one of Kenston High's most prominent organizations.

OFFICERS, L to R: E. Close, secretary; C. Velek, v. president; L. Gockel, president; R. Wilde, treasurer.

The Language Club is concerned with the languages, customs, and people of foreign countries. Any language student, who maintains a "C" average, may become a member of the organization. Speakers, such as Kenston's exchange students, are often invited to talk at the monthly meetings. This past year, a part of the money collected from dues was used to have a Christmas party.

Pep Club

There is nothing like Kenston's school spirit! Although we have not had all winning teams, we've always had the school spirit. This spirit is promoted by the members of the Pep Club and their advisor, Mrs. Kay Hurd. In addition to cheering the football, basketball, and wrestling teams on, the girls and guys put up signs in the halls and work hard putting on clever skits for the pep rallies. Any student at Kenston High can become a member of this organization.

Cheerleaders

SUSI TUCEK - Head Cheerleader.

Last spring the high school faculty picked eight girls for Kenston High's cheerleading squad. The Varsity and Junior Varsity squads consist of four girls each, sophomores through seniors represented. Cheerleaders have a very special function to perform at school athletic activities by leading and channeling the school's spirit in support of the football and basketball teams. Although there is a feeling that perhaps cheerleaders are unnecessary, their hard work planning pep rallies and bolstering school spirit is as important to a football team or basketball team as a football or basketball. The easiest thing in the world to do is to have spirit when winning, but it is hard to keep when losing. Although Kenston didn't enjoy a winning season, the cheerleaders, Varsity and Junior Varsity, maintained the school spirit.

1963-64 Kenston High School Marching Band

Band

DRUM MAJORETTE - Annie Smith

The seventy member Kenston High School Marching and Concert Bands played for many functions during the past year. The marching band played for the football games, entertained at the Chagrin Falls Airport Air Show, and, also, played at various other civic affairs.

The Concert Band played concerts both at the high school and away from the school. The band received an excellent rating at the District Music Contest in March.

Many individuals participated in the Solo and Ensemble Contests in February. Kenston students received four superior and six excellent ratings this past year.

The band also participated in the Geauga County Band Festival in February which was held this year at Kenston. Mr. Sisler has really done a wonderful job this year.

See? Our Bombers practice after all!

Although the Bombers spotted a mediocre 3-2 league record and were 4-5 overall, there were a few highlights during the season. Halfback Paul Hohne was recognized as a Press-Star for fine performances in four different games. Hohne, center Jack Rudnay, and tackle Larry Scott were selected to the first All-GLAC Conference team at the close of the season; end Russ Ruebansaal made the second team. Joel Detwiler received the "most valuable sophomore" award after filling in for injured quarterback Jim Cross.

The Kenston Bombers suffered a long, disappointing season, finishing with a 2-16 mark. The Bombers were hurt by the loss of outstanding sophomore, Larry Stubbs and senior Mac Smith, both of whom moved out of town. This, coupled with the fact that Kenston played a few really tough teams, constitutes some of the reasons why Kenston did so badly.

The Bombers did, however, provide their supporters with a couple of respectable showings against Newbury and Solon. Kenston traveled to the Class "AA" tournament at Euclid at the close of the season. The Bombers were hopelessly outclassed by this much larger school, losing 84-29.

Coach Paul Krohn has three returning lettermen. Junior Paul Saiter was the team's leading scorer, and he will be returning next year with junior Paul Barrett and sophomore Rich Reichert. Paul Saiter was placed on the honorable mention All-Conference team.

Golf

Mr. Dutch was very pleased with the Kenston golf team this year. The Bombers finished second place in the GLAC conference. Returning next year are Mike Hull, John Seliga, Rick Beattie, and Chuck Anderson. In May the team traveled to Cleveland to compete in the district meet and made a respectable showing among schools of much larger size.

Wrestling

Coach Don Havener lead the Bombers to a very successful season, with the team losing only to powerful Mayfield. Finishing second in the GLAC meet, the Bombers had four conference champs. Jerry Lock, Larry Anderson, Larry Scott, and Jack Rudnay all took first place in their respective weight classes.

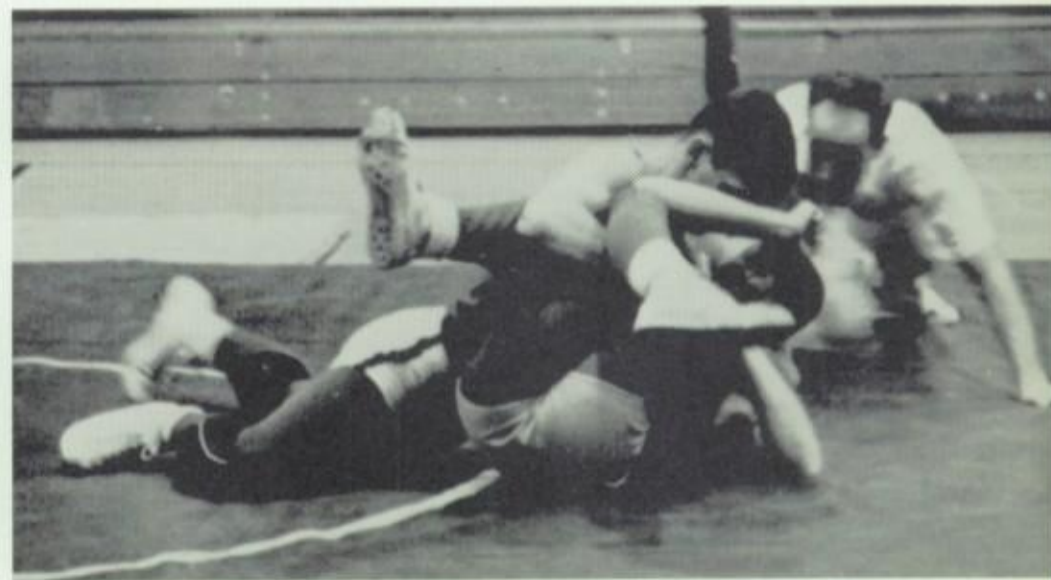

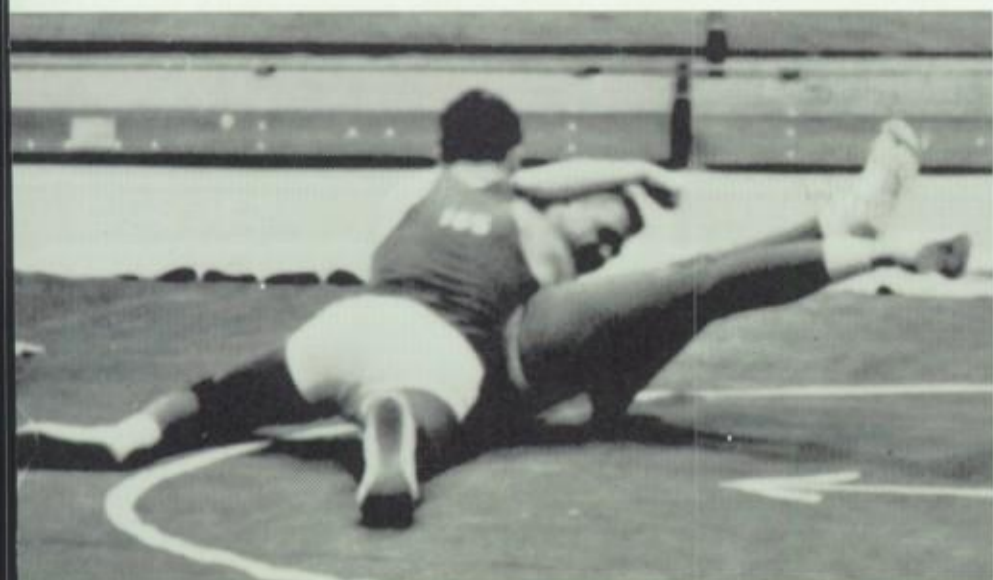

Coach Havener said that this year's wrestling team was one of the best to come out of Kenston and feels that next year's team will be even better.

BASEBALL

Although the Bombers started the season badly, they finished strongly, winning their last three games and winding up 5-6 over all. The Bombers finished 3-3 in the league competition and were third in their last year of GLAC play, as they are entering the new Chagrin Valley Conference next year. Graduating seniors are: Ed Marsey, Bob Hawley, Dave Clemens, and Ken Martell. Spring baseball will no longer be played at Kenston. All baseball will be played in the new CVC summer league, beginning June, 1964.

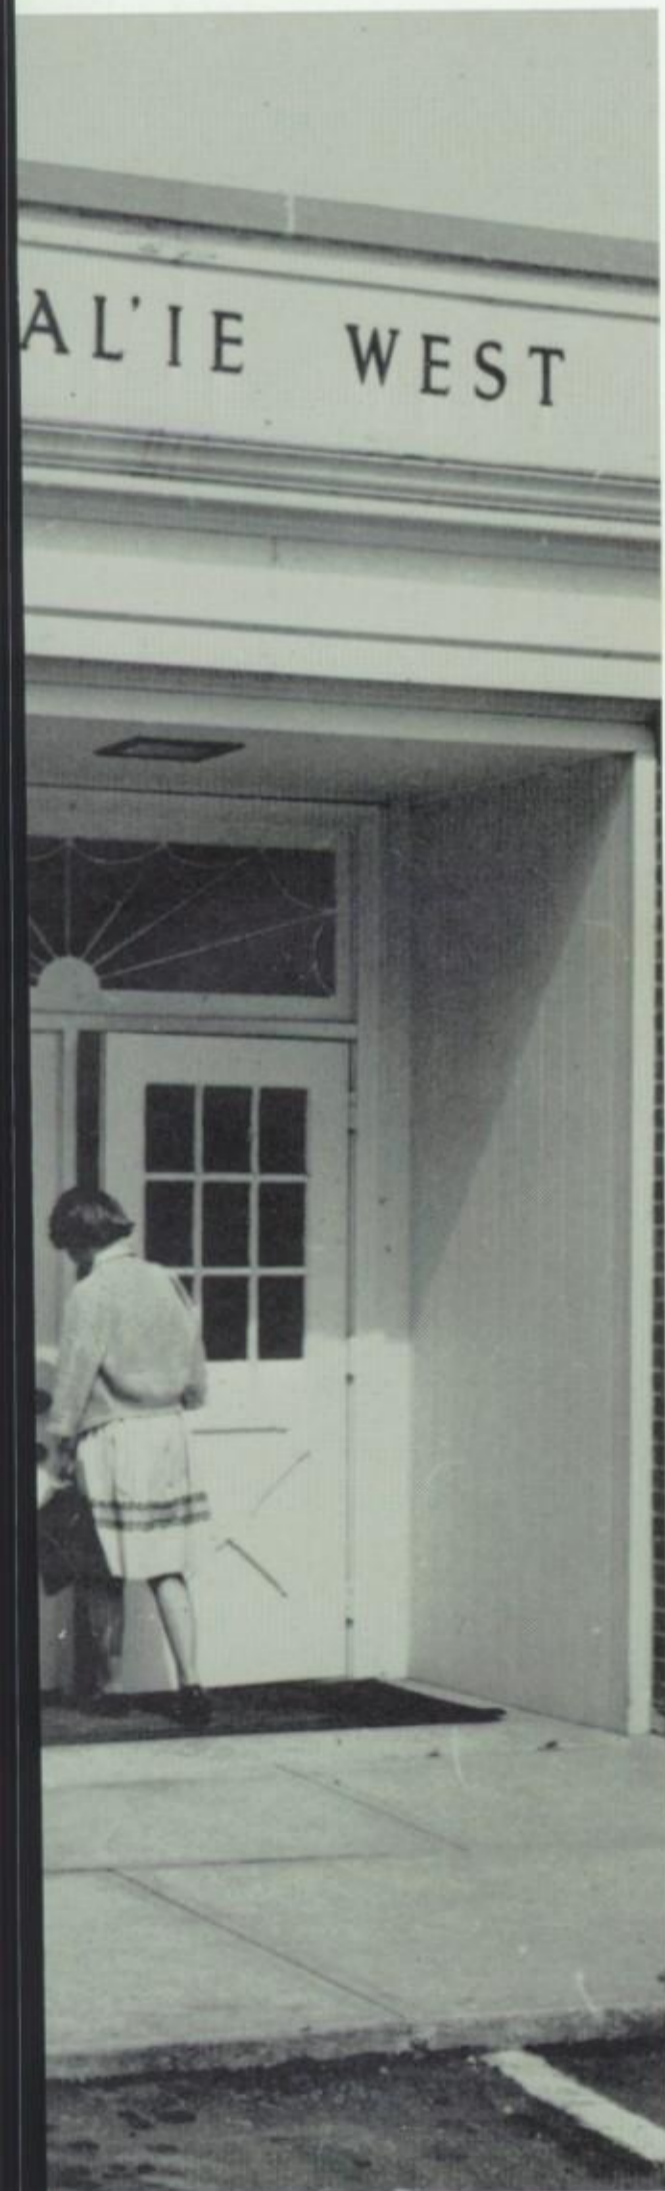

Coach Krohn Cheers his team on to another victory.
